Ike To Request $4.1 Billion Aid Appropriation

Decision Defeat For Cost-Cutters

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower has decided to ask Congress for a new foreign aid appropriation of slightly more than four billion dollars, including a substantial increase in funds for military assistance.

Administration officials reported Sunday the President's decision basically was made last Thursday. It represents a victory for advocates of a continued high level of foreign aid over those in the administration who have been more concerned with cutting costs in an effort to approach a balanced budget.

In essence it means a triumph for the State and Defense Departments' foreign aid planners in their struggle with the expense trimmers of the Budget Bureau and the Treasury Department.

The decision also appears to reflect a conviction on Eisenhower's part that Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's 'a m p a i g n for "peaceful coexistence" and Eisenhower's own drive to ease East-West tension does not warrant the slightest relaxation of effort by the United States, its allies and the other free nations it helps.

The President's action clears his desk of a pressing and important issue that had to be resolved before he leaves Thursday on his good-will trip abroad.

Erupting Hawaii Volcano Drives Spectators Back

VOLCANO, Hawaii (UPI)—Kilauea Iki volcano spit a column of blazing lava more than a quarter mile into the air Sunday driving spectators from a ridge a mile away.

The eruption, biggest in the recorded history of Hawaii, was the third in two weeks. After reaching a height of 1,650 feet Sunday morning, the geyser continued to flow from the side of the crater over 1,000 feet.

Hawaii National Park rangers quickly rushed to close observation points around the rim of the crater where spectators might be endangered. Volcanic ash was piling up on the roads in the observation area where thousands of natives and tourists have been watching Kilauea Iki's greatest performance.

Britain, Egypt Ready To End Suez Episode

LONDON (AP)—Britain and Egypt will restore diplomatic relations this week and write an official end to their Suez quarrel, responsible sources reported Sunday.

Barring last-minute snags, informants said, formal announcements of renewed relations will be made in Cairo and London Tuesday. As a first step, the two countries will exchange diplomatic missions, headed by a chargé d'affaires. Ambassadors, who will be nominated later.

The two countries broke off relations in 1956 after the British-French-Israeli invasion of Egypt. The first moves toward patching up started early this year.

A British-Egyptian financial arrangement settled the claims and counterclaims that sprang from Egypt's nationalization of the Suez Canal and the British military action. Then came a series of unofficial contacts between Egyptian ministers and Commonwealth diplomats in Cairo aimed at getting the respective diplomatic missions reopened.

By restoring relations with Egypt Britain will in fact give diplomatic recognition for the first time to the United Arab Republic. The U.A.R. amalgamation of Egypt and Syria came into being after Suez.

Khrush Flies To Budapest For Red Meet

West Speculates He Might Announce Soviet Withdrawal

BUDAPEST, Hungary (AP)—Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev arrived Sunday to attend the first full-scale congress of the Hungarian Communist party since the 1956 anti-Soviet uprising.

The congress opening Monday is scheduled to discuss the uprising that was crushed by Soviet tanks. Khrushchev is expected to make an important speech before the session ends Thursday.

The appropriation schedule now being developed is for presentation to Congress early in the 1960 session. The aid total, officials indicated, is to be about $4,100,000, divided almost evenly between economic and military assistance.

At the last session of Congress the Eisenhower administration requested a military aid appropriation of $1,600,000,000. Congress voted $1,300,000,000. Thus the new total represents a considerable increase as far as the administration's request goes.

Last session, the President asked Congress for $3,900,000,000 in new funds for economic aid. Congress cut this by 700 million dollars.

Eisenhower's expected release of arms aid funds for Latin-American countries will be based on his finding that such assistance is important to Western Hemisphere defense.

Cuban Catholic Rally Scores Communism

HAVANA (AP)—Cuban Roman Catholics, meeting in a National Catholic Congress, condemned communism Sunday.

They roared approval of a declaration by Dr. Jose Ignacio Laza, one of the main speakers, that "we want betterment of the worker, but not communism."

At the same time Lazaga declared the Cuban opposition to communism could not be interpreted as a defense of "unjust privileges."

Prime Minister Fidel Castro, who has denied persistent claims from some quarters of Red infiltration in his government, was among a million Catholics who earlier stood in rain and cold at a midnight mass opening the congress.

Pope John XXIII broadcast them his blessings from far off Vatican City. Political differences were laid aside for the meeting, hailed by church leaders as the greatest demonstration of religious faith in Cuba's history.

In the vast throng with Castro and his followers were many of his political foes. All joined in a mass prayer.

In his message preceding the blessing, the Pope took note of Cuba's political strife and called for friendship and mutual respect.

The pontiff said "grave events, not so far away," had brought Cubans to "the foot of the altar to strengthen your union in faith, hope and charity."

The Pope's speech, recorded in advance, made no mention of Castro's charge on the eve of the congress that his enemies might use the meeting to turn the Roman Catholic Church against his regime.

Castro wore his usual army uniform to the early morning Mass, but carried no weapons. It was a new experience for him. For the first time since his revolution ousted Fulgencio Batista Jan. 1 he was not the center of attention at a Havana mass meeting.

By restoring relations with Egypt Britain will in fact give diplomatic recognition for the first time to the United Arab Republic. The U.A.R. amalgamation of Egypt and Syria came into being after Suez.

Iranian Diplomat's Son Ends Romance With Slap, Shots From Blank Pistol

WASHINGTON (AP)—The 17-year-old son of an Iranian diplomat ended his romance with a high school girl Saturday night with a slap and two shots from a pistol loaded with blank cartridges.

Because of the boy's diplomatic immunity, there was no police action.

The boy, Farhad Adjoondani, said he lost his temper because his girl friend had been going out with other boys while he was away at college in Youngstown, Ohio. He attended the same high school as the girl.

The girl was identified as Sandra Boilek, 16, daughter of the Rev. J. Glenn Boilek, pastor of a church.

The boy then agreed to take Sandra home. The couple got into his car and while en route, Campbell said Adjoondani held the pistol out an open window, pointed it skyward and fired a second shot.

He then took the girl to the home of Paul J. May, in Chevy Chase, Md., where police were summoned, Campbell said.

Sunday, Adjoondani said: "I think I acted the same as any American boy would. I've been in this country for almost six years and I'm quite familiar with your customs."

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Harvard University economist told prices seriously in periods of rising

From 1938 to 1948, he said, the value of Social Security insurance benefits dropped about one-third in terms of stable purchasing power. Congress began to vote increased benefits in 1950, he noted, so that by 1958 the real value of the payments had increased above the prewar level.

But, Harris said, the benefits were not increased as much as the real per capita income of the whole population for the same period.

The economist suggested that Social Security revenue should be increased greatly by making the tax rates apply to $9,000 of annual wages instead of the $4,800 base established at present.

The Harvard professor said he had no fears of a "galloping inflation."

Icy Weather Helps Boost Traffic Toll

By The Associated Press

Traffic	387
Fires	69
Miscellaneous	115
Total	571

Wintry weather took its toll of traffic dead on the nation's highways as the long Thanksgiving Day holiday weekend neared its close Sunday.

The period extended from 6 p.m. Wednesday to midnight Sunday.

The death toll from fires rose in the waning hours, while fatalities in miscellaneous accidents maintained a steady clip. Notable were two fire tragedies—at Merrill, Wis., and Bristol, R.I.—which claimed five lives each.

For comparative purposes, the Associated Press surveyed a recent nonholiday weekend for an identical 102 hours. That survey showed 433 traffic deaths, 49 in fires and 100 in miscellaneous accidents.

Although the National Safety Council does not issue a forecast for Thanksgiving weekend fatalities, it estimated that traffic fatalities for a four-day nonholiday weekend at this time of year would total 470.

Last Thanksgiving, 454 persons were killed on the highways over the long weekend, 54 died in fires and 118 in miscellaneous accidents.

20, Including 15 Children, Die In Five Fires

By The Associated Press

Twenty persons, including 15 children, died Saturday night and Sunday in fires across the nation.

A father and his two children were killed when fire destroyed their home at Groveland, Fla. Sunday. They were Oscar Ward, 30; Lola Mae Ward, 3; and V. Odie Ward, 2. Ward's wife escaped unharmed.

At Bristol, R.I., Barnes Newberry Jr., 38, and his four children perished Sunday when fire swept their 20-room home overlooking Narragansett Bay.

He was an insurance executive and dealt in real estate.

Trapped in the flames with Newberry were his stepchildren, Evan, 11, and Stephanie, 8, and his children, Eleanor, 5, and Rockwell, 3.

The mother, Martha, 37, escaped by jumping from a second-story window.

Five persons died when fire engulfed a two-story farmhouse near Merrill, Wis., late Saturday night.

The victims were August Laabs, 66; his wife, Anna, 65, their son, Norman, 37, and two of Norman's sons, Larry, 6, and Gregory, 2.

Norman and his wife, Marie, 35, escaped with their 2-month-old infant and two other children, Duane, 8, and Myron, 11, but Norman dashed back into the house to arouse the others and apparently was overcome by smoke.

At Southern Pines, N.C., three Negro children died when fire destroyed a three-room frame home.

Their mother, Mrs. Ernest Singletary, 20, ran screaming from the house for help, but the roof collapsed before her children, Herbert, 4; Clifton, 3, and Hazel, 16 months, could be reached.

In Louisville, Ky., four Negro boys were killed Saturday night when flames swept their two-room house. The children, who had been left alone by their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Spurin Johnson, were Daniel Wayne, 4, Alvin L., 2½, Spurin Jerome, 19 months, and Ricky Lee, 8 months.

During this period, by applying serious threats and crude pressure, the personnel of the U.S. consulate general forced Chang Chien-yu to make a statement against his will.

"At 7 a.m. on the 27th when the American kidnapers were taking Chang Chien-yu to Bombay city by car and passing the vicinity of the Chinese consulate general, Chang Chien-yu managed to escape and ran back to the Chinese consulate general.

"Thereupon, the personnel of the U.S. consulate general escorting him immediately chased him with knife in hand.

"This was discovered by other personnel. The Chinese consulate general who, while stopping the American from carrying out his criminal intention and protecting Chang Chien-yu, informed the Indian police authorities in Bombay by telephone. Soon after, the Bombay police authorities dispatched persons who took away the American."

The U.S. version is that Armstrong was held for six hours, bound, beaten and questioned and was released only when Indian police arrived.

The U.S. Embassy's account runs like this:

Chang asked for asylum and was taken to a beach cottage at Juhu overnight Thursday because he expressed fear for his safety. Armstrong went along as his escort.

Friday morning Chang asked to be returned to the U.S. consulate general to obtain an important key he left behind. But instead the taxi in which he and Armstrong were riding stopped near the Chinese consulate general.

Chang started to leave the taxi with a tape recording of his statement asking asylum. When Armstrong tried to seize the recording Chang shouted to his countrymen inside the compound. Six of them ran out, surrounded the taxi, seized Armstrong and dragged him inside.

GOP Fund Drive Near Three-Quarter Mark

Rehearsed Churchill For Broadcast

LONDON (AP) — As Winston Churchill stabbed his fork into a sausage, he thought about Adolf Hitler.

"When I think of that face," he growled. "When I think of that mustache."

"They say he is a genius. He is not. He is the most monstrous abortion of human monstrosities."

That was 19 years ago. France had fallen. Britain was under the terror of the Nazi blitz.

Churchill, at lunch, was preparing a broadcast to the people of occupied France. He was to speak to them in their own language to rally their spirit.

Churchill had summoned to his table French actor-producer Michel Saint-Denis, then working in London on wartime French programs for the British Broadcasting Corp.

Now, for the first time, Saint-Denis tells of the day he spent with Churchill to rehearse him for an memorable broadcast that night — Oct. 21, 1940.

These and other intimate recollections will be broadcast by Saint-Denis over the BBC Monday night as a birthday tribute to Churchill, who will be 85.

Saint-Denis remembers a serious and, at times, tearful Churchill. Churchill gave his "don't despair, ill who over a lunch punctuated by we-shall-win" broadcast — first in German air raids, said: "We shall English to the United States and win, my friend. We shall win in Canada and then in French."

Fired DJ Says Payola Wrong

DETROIT (AP) — "I have received thousands of letters from you kids and almost all of them say you don't think what I did was wrong," a former disc jockey fired for taking payola told 3,000 teen-agers at a dance Saturday night.

"This is great for my ego but it's not good for you to think that payola is right. What I did was wrong," Tom Clay told the youthful audience. Clay was fired from his WJBK Radio disc jockey job last week. He said he got about $5,400 in payola over an 18-month period.

"I knew I would lose my job if I admitted taking payola but I had to tell the truth," Clay said tearfully. "If I can impress even a small number of you that if you tell the truth things will come out right, I won't feel so bad."

Four disc jockeys, including Clay, have been released by Detroit radio and television stations recently. Don McLeod and Dale Young both resigned from WJBK last week. Mickey Shorr was fired Friday by WXYZ. McLeod, Young and Shorr have denied any connection with payola.

Prominent Norfolk Publisher Succumbs

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — Samuel Leroy Slover, 86, chairman of the Board of Norfolk - Portsmouth Newspapers, Inc., and a prominent figure in journalism for 55 years, died at his home here Sunday.

He had been in declining health for two years.

The corporation Slover headed publishes the Norfolk Virginian-Pilot and the Norfolk Ledger-Discpatch & Star.

Since coming to Virginia in 1904, he at one time also owned or controlled the Newport News Times-Herald, the Richmond Times-Dispatch and the Petersburg Progress-Index.

Slover established a reputation for taking control of sick newspapers and restoring them to health.

Lady Vegetarian Proves Women As Tough As Men

LONDON (AP) — A middle-aged lady vegetarian in a purple track suit hobbled through a London downpour Sunday at the end of a 110-mile march to prove that women are as tough as men.

Dog-tired, Dr. Barbara Moore, 55-year-old scientist, just failed to crack the unofficial record for Britain's latest weekend craze. She walked from Birmingham to London in 26 hours, 25 minutes, only a minute off the time set Saturday night by three army men who also marched from Birmingham to the capital.

Animal Farm Site Selected By NIH

WASHINGTON (AP) — A 513-acre site near Poolesville, Md., has been picked as a permanent animal farm for the National Institutes of Health, with transfer expected to be completed by April 1.

The farm is to take some of the load off crowded animal facilities at present. NIH installations, according to Chris Hansen, chief of the Division of Research Services.

Fully matured peppercorns are used to make white pepper, while berries picked before maturity are used for black pepper.

APOLOGY GOING TO RUSSIA — Walter A. Brown, "thoroughly ashamed and disgusted" president of the U. S. Amateur Hockey Association, said in Boston he planned a letter of apology to the Russian Ice Hockey federation for the off-ice actions of the Brockton Hockey club (above). The coach of the team denied charges that the players broke training and made passes at female guests of the Metropole hotel in Moscow. The charges were made by Edmund Stevens, Moscow correspondent for Sports Illustrated magazine.

Rehearsed Churchill For Broadcast

LONDON (AP) — As Winston Churchill stabbed his fork into a and we have much better science, he thought about Adolf Hitler.

"When I think of that face," he growled. "When I think of that mustache."

"They say he is a genius. He is not. He is the most monstrous abortion of human monstrosities."

That was 19 years ago France had fallen. Britain was under the Nazi blitz.

Churchill, at lunch, was preparing a broadcast to the people of occupied France. He was to speak to them in their own language to rally their spirit.

Churchill had summoned to his table French actor-producer Michel Saint-Denis, then working in London on wartime French programs for the British Broadcasting Corp.

Now, for the first time, Saint-Denis tells of the day he spent into a small room crowded with Churchill to rehearse him for officers and radio technicians. All a memorable broadcast that night seats were taken.

—Oct. 21, 1940.

These and other intimate recollections will be broadcast by Saint-Denis over the BBC Monday plied.

And, perched on one of Churchill's knees, Saint-Denis introduced Churchill on the air. Then, and, at times, tearful Churchill gave his "don't despair" ill who over a lunch punctuated by we-shall-win" broadcast—first in German air raids, said: "We shall English to the United States and win, my friend. We shall win Canada and then in French.

Fired DJ Says Payola Wrong

Lady Vegetarian Proves Women As Tough As Men

DETROIT (AP) — "I have received thousands of letters from you kids and almost all of them say you don't think what I did was wrong," a former disc jockey fired for taking payola told 3,000 teen-agers at a dance Saturday night.

"This is great for my ego but it's not good for you to think that payola is right. What I did was wrong," Tom Clay told the youthful audience. Clay was fired from his WJBK Radio disc jockey job last week. He said he got about $5,400 in payola over an 18-month period.

"I knew I would lose my job if I admitted taking payola but I had to tell the truth," Clay said tearfully. "If I can impress even a small number of you that if you tell the truth things will come out right, I won't feel so bad."

Four disc jockeys, including Clay have been released by Detroit radio and television stations recently. Don McLeod and Dale Young both resigned from WJBK last week. Mickey Shorr was fired Friday by WXYZ. McLeod, Young and Shorr have denied any connection with payola.

Fire Sweeps Big Dairy Barn Near Funkstown

House Damaged; Loss Set At $125,000

HAGERSTOWN (AP) — Fire destroyed a large barn, killed several animals and damaged a house Sunday on a dairy farm near Funkstown, a few miles south of here.

Washington County fire officials estimated the damage at about $125,000. They said the barn was valued at more than $50,000 and that crops and farm equipment in the barn were worth nearly $100,000.

Cause of the blaze, which was discovered shortly after 10 a.m., was not determined immediately, although firemen said the fire apparently began near the top of the barn.

Damage to the house was not serious and another barn nearby was unharmed.

Beard and his family were at home at the time, but were not injured.

State Police from Hagerstown also answered the fire alarm.

Train's Sudden Stop Injures 3 Persons

WASHINGTON (AP) — Three persons were injured, one seriously, when a ten-car Pennsylvania Railroad special train, returning from the Army-Navy football game at Philadelphia, broke an air hose as it entered Union Station Saturday night.

Parting of the hose between the seventh and eighth cars applied the train's emergency brakes, throwing scores of passengers to the floor as they prepared to get off, terminal officials said.

Reported seriously injured was May Corlett, 68, Washington, who was admitted to Casualty Hospital with head and back injuries. Also admitted was Mrs. Francis L. Turner, 54, Washington, who suffered back injuries and bruises. Armand Frantz, 50, Baltimore, Md., a flagman on the train, was released after treatment for back injuries.

TRAVELOGUE—Here are matters President Eisenhower probably will touch upon at each of his trip stops in Europe and Asia. The most important stop is Paris, where the pre-summit conference talks are scheduled. (Central Press)

Patuxent Plan Turned Down By Committee

BALTIMORE (AP) — Proposals aimed at changing the legal status of the Patuxent Institution for mentally defective criminals have been rejected by a legislative committee.

The committee, in a report submitted to the Legislative Council this weekend, rejected suggestions that the administrative organization at the Jessup institution be changed.

The group, headed by Sen. Harry R. Hughes (D-Caroline), also turned down a recommendation that the indeterminate sentence for defective delinquents be limited.

Under this provision, chronic criminals of defective or substandard mentality can be held for life unless a board of review finds they have responded to treatment sufficiently to warrant their release.

The committee also opposed any change in the definition of defective delinquency, although it admitted changes might be advisable later.

The report, in answer to criticism of the institution, said the State's law on defective delinquency is still too new to warrant substantial changes.

Patuxent, Maryland's pioneer facility for the handling of these cases, was opened five years ago.

The committee report concluded a series of studies of the institution begun after 34 inmates escaped last April 5. All were recaptured within a few days.

The Hughes committee also voted to propose that Patuxent be relieved of its semi-independent status and be placed under the jurisdiction of the Department of Correction.

Actor-Director Dies

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Lester Vail, 59, stage and television actor and director who was a leading man in the early talkies, died Saturday following a short illness.

In 1931 Vail played in such pictures as "Dance, Fools, Dance" and "The Woman Between."

Md. Boy Wins National 4-H Tractor Award

CHICAGO (AP) — James R. Scott of Randallstown, Md., won a National 4-H Club Tractor Award and a $400 college scholarship Sunday at the club's 38th congress here.

Scott, 18, was cited for his knowledge of tractor care and operation.

The young Baltimore County 4-H'er is a high school senior with an impressive background as a tractor specialist. He was selected to give instructions in tractor maintenance to 60 club members at the county's 4-H school in 1958 and again this year.

Putting his knowledge to practical use, he has earned several hundred dollars for each of the last several years doing custom plowing, discing, tilling, leveling and garden planting. His earnings last year came to $865.

Scott has also carried dairy and sheep 4-H Club projects and has shown prize-winning sheep and heifers.

SRC Pays Record Sum To Contractors

BALTIMORE (AP) — The State Roads Commission paid a record $41,662,145 to contractors during the first 10 months of 1959.

The roads commission said over the weekend that October payments totaled $5,940,877, second highest monthly payment of the year. The highest total was $6,515,012 in July.

Right-of-way payments during October totaled $1,201,169 and cumulative right-of-way payments for the 10-month period amounted to $10,014,142.

Wheeling Ministers Join Vice Crusade

WHEELING, W. Va. (UPI) — Mayor John J. Gast said Sunday he "welcomed" a crusade by several area ministers against vice conditions in Wheeling.

Gast said it had been a constant and continuous battle trying to enforce laws in the city "in the face of general public indifference."

"I feel... their inspirational leadership can influence the public," he said.

At least four ministers had indicated they would speak out Sunday against gambling, prostitution and liquor sales in Wheeling. However, it was reported the number grew to seven.

SRC Proposes Weekday Bargain Rate For Users Of Bay Bridge

BALTIMORE (AP) — The State Roads Commission has proposed a weekday bargain rate for motorists using the Chesapeake Bay Bridge.

Chairman John B. Funk proposed that the commission sell books of 10 to 20 tickets for 50 cents per ticket. The tickets would be valid Monday through Thursday for 180 days.

In a letter to Coverdale and Colpitts, traffic analysts, Funk said the plan was designed to encourage motorists to use the span during the four-day period of normally low traffic. Funk's letter was made public over the weekend.

He said the new ticket books would not affect the present 30-day commuter rates of 30-ticket books, which cost $10.50 for the driver and car or $13.50 for driver, car and all passengers.

Normal rates per trip are $1.25 for driver and car and $1.40 if other passengers are in the car.

Tolls collected at the bridge, the Baltimore Harbor Tunnel, the Susquehanna River Bridge at Havre de Grace and the Potomac Bridge at Morgantown are used to retire bonds covering these facilities.

Therefore, any change in tolls at one of them is closely studied to make certain it does not upset the overall financing structure.

Sen. Randolph Urges Support Of Home Needs

Addresses Moose Group In Romney

ROMNEY, W. Va. (UPI)—Sen. Jennings Randolph (D-W. Va.) said Sunday the United States must not neglect the "well-being" of its own people.

"For every dollar we allocate for aid and assistance outside the United States, we have the double obligation to forthrightly attack unemployment problems at home," Randolph said.

The senator told a Tri-County Moose Lodge gathering that he had been told within the past week that the people of East Germany are becoming more discontented with their plight under Communist rule.

"The East Germans declare they cannot buy needed food or clothing at a time when the Soviet rulers claim to have a Red flag on the moon.

"In this situation, there is a warning signal for us. In our laudible striving for leadership and realistic pursuit for peace, we must not neglect the economic strength of our country or the well-being of our own people."

Lonaconing PE Planning Open House Program

LONACONING—Potomac Edison Company's new customer service center in Lonaconing will have "open house" on Friday and Saturday, December 4 and 5, from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. at 7 Jackson Street.

Prizes, refreshments, souvenirs, favors for the children and special exhibits are planned for the "open house" at the new center, which was formerly Rosenberg's grocery location.

To better serve its customers in Lonaconing area, the Potomac Edison Company is moving from Main Street where it has been located for nearly a century, to a completely remodeled and renovated building.

Managers office, cashier service, complete display of modern electrical appliances, modern appliance servicing and repair headquarters and company facilities, plus air conditioned shopping comfort are included in the new service center.

Free parking in back of the new store, with entrance from Railroad Street, will provide for the hundreds of visitors expected during the two days of "open house" and for regular customer use.

Families are invited to visit the new building which has a new glass front with new wall paneling and counters.

Frostburg Personals

FROSTBURG—Mrs. Richard Trenum, Lonaconing; Mrs. Marie Bauman, Lonaconing; Victor Rehman, RD 3, Frostburg, and Mrs. Jacob Steinla, Cumberland, are medical patients in Miners Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Geary and sons, Dale and Norman, Gaithersburg, spent the holidays with Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Geary, Grahamton.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles William Frye, 31 Hill Street, are visiting friends in Washington, D. C., over the holidays.

Parent-Child Study Group Will Meet

FROSTBURG—The Beall High Parent-Child Study Group will resume meetings Thursday at 7 p.m. at the school with Mrs. Clara Mae Vogtman in charge. Dr. Wayne Hill will talk on "Discipline."

This study group is the only group in the county to continue meetings. The first Thursday of each month has been set aside to meet at the school. All interested parents are urged to attend.

Health Meet Set

LONACONING—The Lonaconing Health Center meeting will be held tomorrow at 8 p.m.

Christmas Baskets Will Be Distributed In Tri-Towns

PIEDMONT—Plans for the p.m. in the Presbyterian Church distribution of Christmas baskets to form a Community Council to the needy by the United Organizations will be made at 7:30 p.m. today in the Westerport Library. Officers, board members and advisors are to attend.

Beginning Tuesday, Mrs. Elizabeth Thomas, executive secretary of UO, will be in the office on the second floor of Union Hall, Westerport, Monday through Friday from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. to direct activities.

Various civic, service and fraternal organizations of the Tri-Towns will send representatives to a meeting Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. at the library.

Louis Untermeyer Speaks At Frostburg On Thursday

FROSTBURG—Louis Untermeyer, internationally known author, poet, critic and lecturer, is scheduled to appear Thursday at 8:15 p.m. in Compton hall at Frostburg state teachers college.

An anthologist of repute, Untermeyer has seen his books, "A Treasury of Great Poems" and "A Treasury of Laughter" reach an ever-widening public. Another book, "Modern American and British Poetry," was recently issued in an enlarged mid-century edition and has been adopted as standard text in virtually all schools and colleges throughout America.

His list of literary accomplishments was lengthened with the publication of his latest book, "Makers of the Modern World." In it he recounts the lives of writers, artists, scientists, statesmen, philosophers and other cultural leaders who have helped to shape the pattern of today's world.

Garrett Dairymen To Hear Report On Milk Commission

OAKLAND—Many dairymen in Garrett County have heard or read of the proposed Maryland Milk Commission. The proposed commission has posed many questions in the minds of farmers, processors, and retailers. How would it be organized? What would the function of such a commission be? What are the advantages and disadvantages? Would it establish price controls and what effect would this have on wholesale and retail prices?

An effort is being made by the County Agent's office in cooperation with the Garrett County Farm Bureau to present a discussion of this topic to the dairymen of Garrett County. A meeting has been arranged for Thursday at the Accident fire hall. This meeting will be at 1:30 p.m. Professor George M. Beal, farm economist of the University of Maryland, will present the information and be in charge of the program. All interested persons are urged to attend.

Homemakers Meet At Ellerslie

ELLERSLIE—The Homemakers Club met a recent evening in the EUB church basement with Mrs. Dorothy Lowery presiding.

Eleven members answered roll call. The group repeated the Lord's Prayer. Mrs. Mamie Ruth Myers reported on the Achievement Day held recently at the LaVale Methodist Church. Motion was made to reinstate Mrs. Pearl See as president and Mrs. Alvenia Johnson as treasurer. Plans were made to have the Christmas party in the church basement December 22 and any member who wishes may bring a 50 cent jingle gift. The 4-H members have been invited to the party.

Managers office, cashier service, complete display of modern electrical appliances, modern appliance servicing and repair headquarters and company facilities, plus air conditioned shopping comfort are included in the new service center.

Free parking in back of the new store, with entrance from Railroad Street, will provide for the hundreds of visitors expected during the two days of "open house" and for regular customer use.

Sen. Randolph Urges Support Of Home Needs

Addresses Moose Group In Romney

ROMNEY, W. Va. (UPI)—Sen. Jennings Randolph (D-W. Va.) said Sunday the United States must not neglect the "well-being" of its own people.

"For every dollar we allocate for aid and assistance outside the United States, we have the double obligation to forthrightly attack unemployment problems at home," Randolph said.

The senator told a Tri-County Moose Lodge gathering that he had been told within the past week that the people of East Germany are becoming more discontented with their plight under Communist rule.

"The East Germans declare they cannot buy needed food or clothing at a time when the Soviet rulers claim to have a Red flag on the moon."

In this situation, there is a warning signal for us. In our laudible striving for leadership and realistic pursuit for peace, we must not neglect the economic strength of our country or the well-being of our own people."

Lonaconing PE Planning Open House Program

LONACONING—Potomac Edison Company's new customer service center in Lonaconing will have "open house" on Friday and Saturday, December 4 and 5, from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. at 7 Jackson Street.

Prizes, refreshments, souvenirs, favors for the children and special exhibits are planned for the "open house" at the new center, which was formerly Rosenberg's grocery location.

To better serve its customers in Lonaconing area, the Potomac Edison Company is moving from Main Street where it has been located for nearly a century, to a completely remodeled and renovated building.

Managers' office, cashier service, complete display of modern electrical appliances, modern appliance servicing and repair headquarters and company facilities, plus air conditioned shopping comfort are included in the new service center.

Free parking in back of the new store, with entrance from Railroad Street, will provide for the hundreds of visitors expected during the two days of "open house" and for regular customer use.

Families are invited to visit the new building which has a new glass front with new wall paneling and counters.

FROSTBURG—Louis Untermeyer, internationally known author, poet, critic and lecturer, is scheduled to appear Thursday at 8:15 p.m. in Compton Hall at Frostburg state teachers college.

An anthologist of repute, Untermeyer has seen his books, "A Treasury of Great Poems" and "A Treasury of Laughter" reach an ever-widening public. Another book, "Modern American and British Poetry," was recently issued in an enlarged mid-century edition and has been adopted as a standard text in virtually all schools and colleges throughout America.

His list of literary accomplishments was lengthened with the publication of his latest book, "Makers of the Modern World." In it he recounts the lives of writers, artists, scientists, statesmen, philosophers and other cultural leaders who have helped to shape the pattern of today's world.

Garrett Dairymen To Hear Report On Milk Commission

OAKLAND—Many dairymen in Garrett County have heard or read of the proposed Maryland Milk Commission. The proposed commission has posed many questions in the minds of farmers, processors, and retailers. How would it be organized? What would the function of such a commission be? What are the advantages and disadvantages? Would it establish price controls and what effect would this have on wholesale and retail prices?

An effort is being made by the County Agent's office in cooperation with the Garrett County Farm Bureau to present a discussion of this topic to the dairymen of Garrett County. A meeting has been arranged for Thursday at the Accident fire hall. This meeting will be at 1:30 p.m. Professor George M. Beal, farm economist of the University of Maryland, will present the information and be in charge of the program. All interested persons are urged to attend.

Homemakers Meet At Ellerslie

ELLERSLIE—The Homemakers Club met a recent evening in the EUB church basement with Mrs. Dorothy Lowery presiding.

Ellerslie members answered roll call. The group repeated the Lord's Prayer. Mrs. Mamie Ruth Myers reported on the Achievement Day held recently at the LaVale Methodist Church. Motion was made to reinstate Mrs. Pearl See as president and Mrs. Alvenia Johnson as treasurer. Plans were made to have the Christmas party in the church basement December 22 and any member who wishes may bring a 50 cent jingle gift. The 4-H members have been invited to the party.

Friday, Annie Armstrong Circle will participate with Mrs. Rae Pugh as prayer chairman and the topic "O God, We Pray for All Mankind,"—our dedication." The day has also been set aside as world-wide "Baptist Women's Day of Prayer."

Cuban Communists • And Dr. Castro

Cuban Communists have rarely showed their hand so openly as they did at the tumultuous meeting in Havana of the Cuban National Workers Congress. They turned the meeting into a near riot by their demand for representation on the executive committee of the Congress. This effort failed but the Reds did not go away empty handed.

They persuaded Cuba's organized labor to withdraw from the anti-Communist Inter-American Regional Organization of Workers. In this instance it was anti-American rather than pro-Communist sentiment which turned the tide. The regional organization was portrayed as under control of "American imperialism."

Under the prevailing sentiment in Cuba, whipped up by Castro's fiery "speeches," this automatically insured a majority in favor of withdrawal.

But on the key issue — whether the Communists should be represented on the executive committee of the Congress — majority sentiment seemed plainly anti-Red. The few Communist delegates were unable to control the course of events, even with the help of a three-and-a-half-hour harangue by Castro pleading for "unity."

But it is openly predicted in Havana that Castro will think of something. It is touch and go whether the Reds come out on top. A delegation of East German Communists was cheered at the meeting and carried to the platform. It is clear that Communism will emerge on top in Cuba if Castro can swing it.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

Ben Hur

The two women behind me were not in a rave, as the expression goes, over the movie which they had been invited to see. One said that she had not shed a tear, which was unusual for her, as she cried even at the most corny shows. So she said.

I wondered how different our tastes had become. For what these women wanted to cry about was some sexy jumble in which the gangster slaps the dame across the jaw when he catches her in her chemise with another gangster whom he shoots. Thus love triumphs! It is the old Romeo and Juliet scenario all over again, except that our modern Romeo does not die of poisoned drink; Mike Hammer or Peter Gunn or some such takes care of him.

"Ben Hur" is a motion picture of the days of Jesus Christ in Jerusalem, sensitively produced, brilliantly cast, beautifully mounted. It is an artistic effort; its photography is thrilling, and its music by Miklos Rozsa at times reaches symphonic quality.

I do not often become enthusiastic about motion pictures because the medium has been ruined for me by the excess to which it has been employed. But an artistic, exciting movie can be a real joy, as "Ben Hur" is.

Of course, to most Americans, there is nothing new about "Ben Hur" and therefore it is pleasurable like seeing an old friend or a classmate. I suppose I saw the play a dozen times and like every American boy, born earlier than this generation of super-sophistication, I read it before I cut my eye teeth. The story by General Lew Wallace, written about 80 years ago, has become an American classic, and despite the habit of the current generation to wallow in the realism of Hemingway and Sartre, the return to the romantic is as welcome as it is inevitable.

The basis of the story is the occupation of Judea by the Romans, the suffering of the Jews at the hands of the Romans, the development of mass movements which differed from some current mass movements because the Jews of those days were interested neither in bread nor in liberty but in God, the appearance of Jesus Christ among them, and the ultimate conquest of Rome by ideas.

Every thrill that Wallace put into his story is in the movie. The chariot race is there. No one who read "Ben Hur" or who ever saw it on the stage, can forget the chariot race. It was the high moment in grand melodrama and so it is in this picture. The modern technique of the big screen and living color makes the arena larger and the horses more fiery and the contest fiercer than on the stage in the old days when one stood up and shouted for victory.

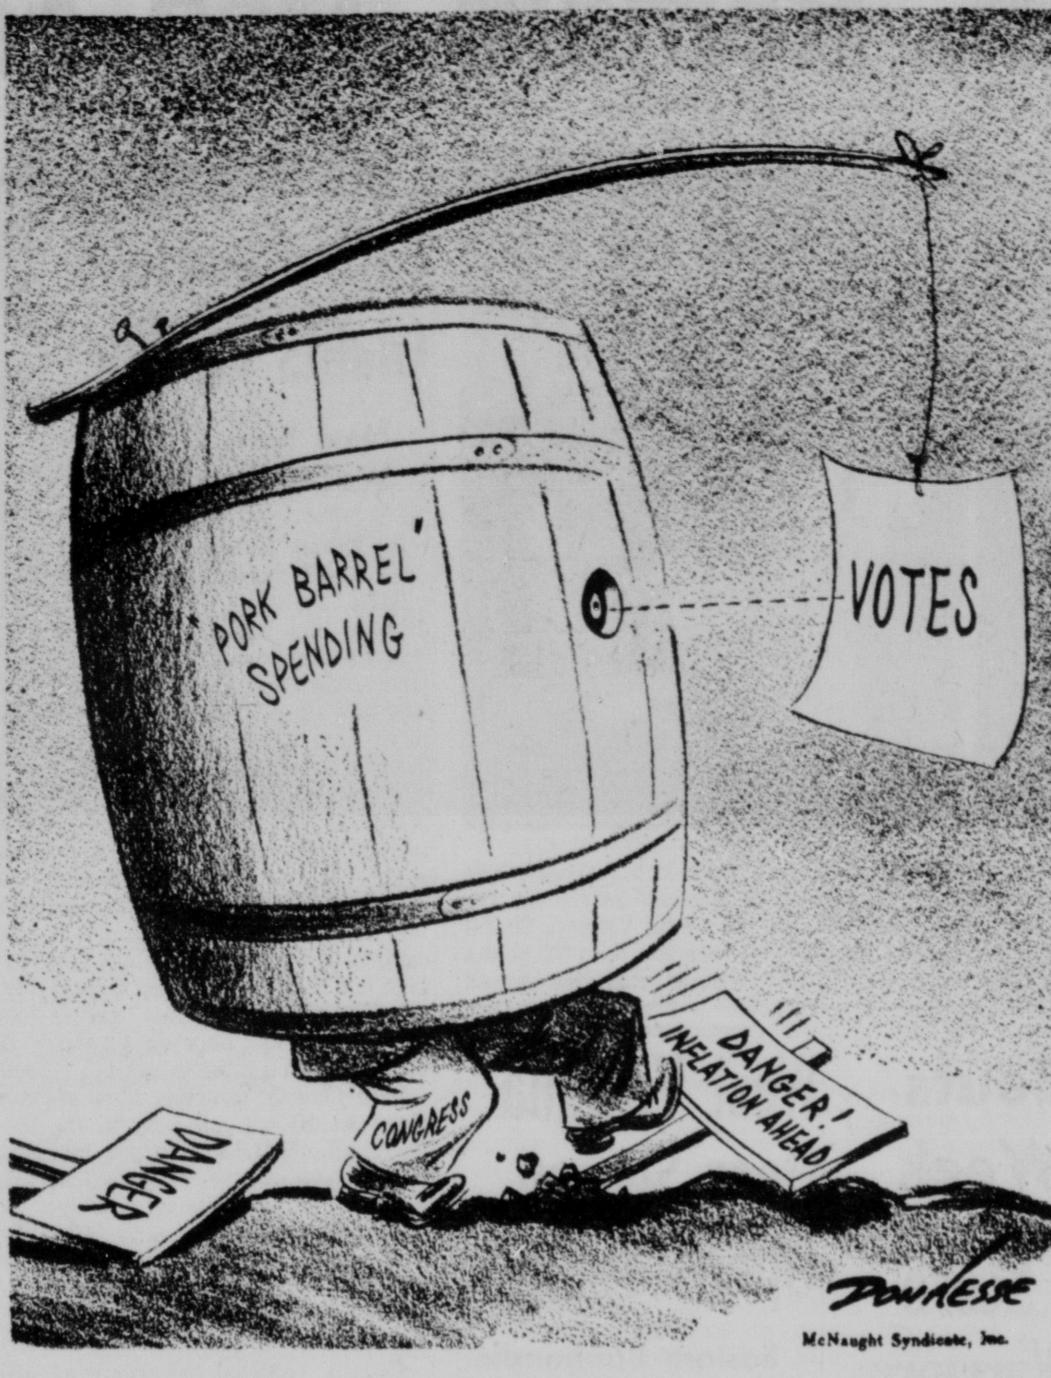

The contest between Judah Ben Hur and Messala, between Jerusalem and Rome, between the power of truth and the power of arms, is symbolic of the entire story and of much of human history. It is one of the curiosities of history that although Rome was the most powerful nation on Earth, amply portrayed in this motion picture, and Palestine was one of the poorest countries in the Fertile Crescent on the edge of the Arabian Desert, Rome was never able altogether to conquer the Jews because they possessed the will to resist. The Romans could conquer Palestine but not the Jews; they could take the land but not the spirit of the people.

"Whence came that enormous will to resist? Here was a nation with no great army, no great navy, not much land, no significant natural resources. Nevertheless, its people possessed the will to resist Rome's might and Rome's tortures. Whence came such power to resist?"

Beyond doubt, it came from the Jewish concept of a God of love and mercy, a Power outside of and beyond man whose revelation to man made for righteous living, for love and charity and devotion to a moral life. The adoration of God runs throughout this picture as a glorious theme if only one has eyes to see the symbolism and joy in his heart to understand that this is more than a motion picture. It is a dramatized preaching of all that the Bible means, done with unerring tastefulness and even religious ardor.

The Tremendous Question Of China's Future

By Joseph Alsop

HONG KONG
One tremendous question fills this reporter's mind at the close of the most absorbing bout of inquiry in a long experience. Can the Chinese Communists carry their ruthless and terrible venture to a successful conclusion?

In the briefest summary, the attempt is being made to transform ancient-agrarian China, under forced draught, into a military-industrial giant power. For this purpose, huge capital investments and other outlays are necessary. The Chinese peasantry are paying the bill; and the hundreds of millions of Chinese peasants have therefore suffered a fearful drop in their level of life.

As has been suggested in previous reports, the experiment is plainly patterned on Josef Stalin's forced industrialization of Russia. Stalin succeeded. But the difference between Stalin's situation in 1929 and Mao-Tse-tung's situation in 1959 are great enough to raise doubts about Mao's success.

If you draw up a balance sheet, Mao has one advantage over Stalin—but only one. China's labor force today is not merely vastly greater than the Russian labor force in the period of the early Five-Year Plans. In quality, it is also a better labor force, more teachable, more industrious, and more easily deployed for great projects. It would be the height of folly to underestimate what Mao can achieve by his almost military mobilization of China's magnificent manpower. But it is almost equally foolish to underestimate Mao's disadvantages, all of which derive from China's poverty and over-population.

Forced industrialization of a poor, heavily overpopulated country, like China, is inherently far more difficult than forced industrialization of a basically rich, underpopulated country, like Russia in 1929. The main cause

FUTURE TV SHOWS—In the wake of the TV rigging scandals, some people in Washington are wondering about the effect of the new concept of honesty on the continuing flow of television material out of the capital.

Will the President in his future television appearances read directly from a visible script? Will panel interrogations of public figures state whether or not the subjects of the program have been talked over in advance? And how about television and radio interviews recorded on Capitol Hill by Senators and Representatives for use back in their home districts?

Already, one Senator has gone to some lengths to assure his constituency that his bi-weekly filmed television report is not rehearsed, or cut, or re-done. Senator Jacob K. Javits, New York Republican, who has reporteders interview him on the show, made a point of denying that he knew the reporters' questions in advance, or in any other way tampered with the true spontaneity of the program.

However, some other public officials, less glib and perhaps more aware of the publicity value of setting forth their own views in a sympathetic manner, may have done some advance work on their own question and answer shows.

The prepared "ad-lib" show has been a favorite device during political campaigns in recent years. The filmed interview between reporters and the candidate, with easy pitches being batted out, has become as standard as campaign promises.

Will this rigging be forgotten by next campaign time, or will political office-seekers be forced to find a new format or be charged with a "fix"? It will be interesting to watch.

Modern treatment sounds complicated but the results are better and the individual gets well faster. This is important, especially to the professional athlete and working man whose livelihood depends upon a good ankle.

Cuban Communists And Dr. Castro

Cuban Communists have rarely showed their hand so openly as they did at the tumultuous meeting in Havana of the Cuban National Workers Congress. They turned the meeting into a near riot by their demand for representation on the executive committee of the Congress. This effort failed but the Reds did not go away empty handed.

They persuaded Cuba's organized labor to withdraw from the anti-Communist Inter-American Regional Organization of Workers. In this instance it was anti-American rather than pro-Communist sentiment which turned the tide. The regional organization was portrayed as under control of "American imperialism."

Under the prevailing sentiment in Cuba, whipped up by Castro's fiery "speeches," this automatically insured a majority in favor of withdrawal.

But on the key issue — whether the Communists should be represented on the executive committee of the Congress — majority sentiment seemed plainly anti-Red. The few Communist delegates were unable to control the course of events, even with the help of a three-and-a-half-hour harangue by Castro pleading for "unity."

But it is openly predicted in Havana that Castro will think of something. It is touch and go whether the Reds come out on top. A delegation of East German Communists was cheered at the meeting and carried to the platform. It is clear that Communism will emerge on top in Cuba if Castro can swing it.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

Ben Hur

The two women behind me were not in a rave, as the expression goes, over the movie which they had been invited to see. One said that she had not shed a tear, which was unusual for her, as she cried even at the most corny shows. So she said.

I wondered how different our tastes had become. For what these women wanted to cry about was some sexy jumble in which the gangster slaps the dame across the jaw when he catches her in her chemise with another gangster whom he shoots. Thus love triumphs! It is the old Romeo and Juliet scenario all over again, except that our modern Romeo does not die of poisoned drink; Mike Hammer or Peter Gunn or some such takes care of him.

"Ben Hur" is a motion picture of the days of Jesus Christ in Jerusalem, sensitively produced, brilliantly cast, beautifully mounted. It is an artistic effort; its photography is thrilling, and its music by Miklos Rozsa at times reaches symphonic quality.

I do not often become enthusiastic about motion pictures because the medium has been ruined for me by the excess to which it has been employed. But an artistic, exciting movie can be a real joy, as "Ben Hur" is.

Of course, to most Americans, there is nothing new about "Ben Hur" and therefore it is pleasurable like seeing an old friend or a classmate. I suppose I saw the play a dozen times and like every American boy, born earlier than this generation of supersophistication, I read it before I cut my eye teeth. The story by General Lew Wallace, written about 80 years ago, has become an American classic, and despite the habit of the current generation to wallow in the realism of Hemingway and Sartre, the return to the romantic is as welcome as it is inevitable.

The basis of the story is the occupation of Judea by the Romans, the suffering of the Jews at the hands of the Romans, the development of mass movements which differed from some current mass movements because the Jews of those days were interested neither in bread nor in liberty but in God, the appearance of Jesus Christ among them, and the ultimate conquest of Rome by ideas.

Every thrill that Wallace put into his story is in the movie. The chariot race is there. No one who read "Ben Hur" or who ever saw it on the stage, can forget the chariot race. It was the high moment in grand melodrama and so it is in this picture. The modern technique of the big screen and living color makes the arena larger and the horses more fiery and the contest fiercer than on the stage in the old days when one stood up and shouted for victory.

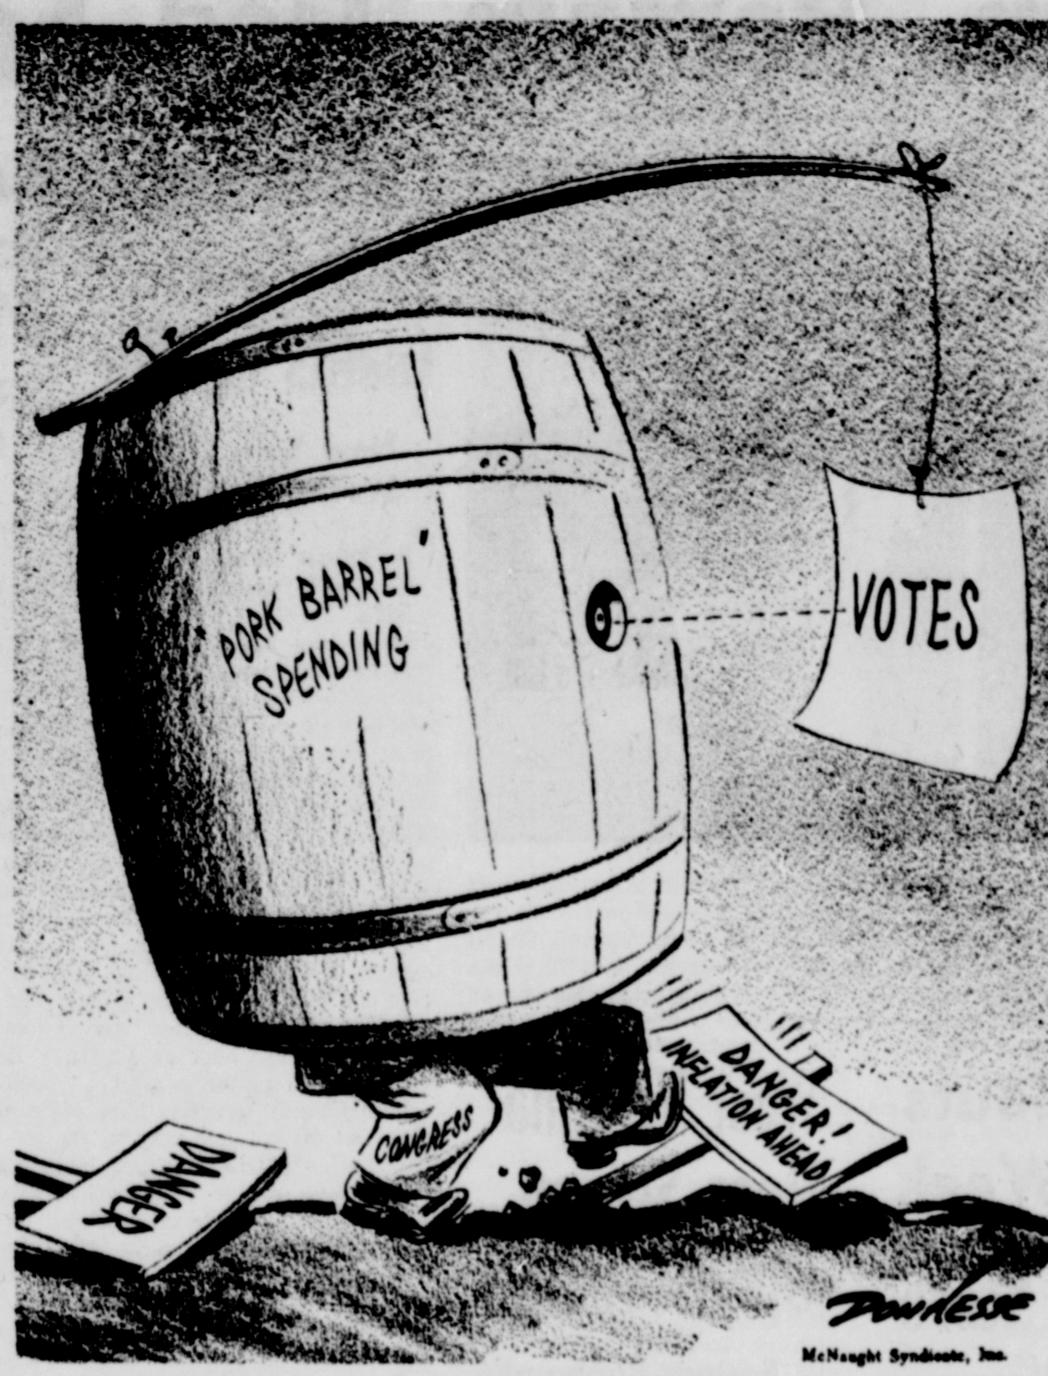

The contest between Judah Ben Hur and Messala, between Jerusalem and Rome, between the power of truth and the power of arms, is symbolic of the entire story and of much of human history. It is one of the curiosities of history that although Rome was the most powerful nation on Earth, amply portrayed so in this motion picture, and Palestine was one of the poorest countries in the Fertile Crescent on the edge of the Arabian Desert, Rome was never able altogether to conquer the Jews because they possessed the will to resist. The Romans could conquer Palestine but not the Jews; they could take the land but not the spirit of the people.

Whence came that enormous will to resist? Here was a nation with no great army, no great navy, not much land, no significant natural resources. Nevertheless, its people possessed the will to resist Rome's might and Rome's tortures. Whence came such power to resist?

Beyond doubt, it came from the Jewish concept of a God of love and mercy, a Power outside of and beyond man whose revelation to man made for righteous living, for love and charity and devotion to a moral life. The adoration of God runs throughout this picture as a glorious theme if only one has eyes to see the symbolism and joy in his heart to understand that this is more than a motion picture. It is a dramatized preaching of all that the Bible means, done with unerring tastefulness and even religious ardor.

The Tremendous Question Of China's Future

By Joseph Alsop

HONG KONG
One tremendous question fills this reporter's mind at the close of the most absorbing bout of inquiry in a long experience. Can the Chinese Communists carry their ruthless and terrible experience to a successful conclusion?

In the briefest summary, the attempt is being made to transform ancient-agrarian China, under forced draught, into a military-industrial giant power. For this purpose, huge capital investments and other outlays are necessary.

The Chinese peasantry are paying the bill; and the hundreds of millions of Chinese peasants have therefore suffered a fearful drop in their level of life.

As has been suggested in previous reports, the experiment is plainly patterned on Josef Stalin's forced industrialization of Russia. Stalin succeeded. But the difference between Stalin's situation in 1929 and Mao-Tse-tung's situation in 1959 are great enough to raise doubts about Mao's success.

If you draw up a balance sheet, Mao has one advantage over Stalin—but only one. China's labor force today is not merely vastly greater than the Russian labor force in the period of the early Five-Year Plans. In quality, it is also a better labor force, more teachable, more industrious, and more easily deployed for great projects. It would be the height of folly to underestimate what Mao can achieve by his almost military mobilization of China's magnificent manpower. But it is almost equally foolish to underestimate Mao's disadvantages, all of which derive from China's poverty and over-population.

Forced industrialization of a poor, heavily overpopulated country, like China, is inherently far more difficult than forced industrialization of a basically rich, underpopulated country, like Russia in 1929. The main cause

Modern treatment sounds complicated but the results are better and the individual gets well faster. This is important, especially to the professional athlete and working man whose livelihood depends upon a good ankle.

Sprains vary in severity. There is a partial tear of ligaments of the outer aspect of the ankle when the injury is mild, whereas the tear is complete in a moderate sprain. A more serious injury occurs when the ankle is twisted so forcibly the tendon pulls off a piece of bone.

The majority of sprains are followed immediately by pain and swelling. Bearing weight may be impossible and some physicians prefer to apply a plaster cast with a special support on the bottom so the victim can be up and about without putting weight on the affected ankle.

TOMORROW: Hypoglycemia-low blood sugar.

STRONTIUM 90

Mrs. N. P. writes: With all the articles published on strontium 90 in milk and wheat, I'm wondering whether my diet during pregnancy will insure a healthy baby or whether he will be leukemic. I eat whole wheat bread, 100 per cent whole grain cereal, one quart of milk, cheese, and eggs every day, plus fruits and vegetables. Am I harming my expectant baby?

REPLY

There is not enough strontium 90 in milk and wheat to harm your baby or discourage milk drinking in children. The amount of strontium 90 is of no significance at this time but the concern stems from what it might be like 10 or 20 years from now, especially if other countries begin to use atomic bombs. Meanwhile, the body will eliminate most of the strontium 90 that enters through food.

ULCER AND LIQUOR

Mrs. W. writes: My husband's ulcer was cured after he gave up liquor. Now he has gone back to heavy drinking. Does this mean another ulcer?

REPLY

Yes, especially if the alcohol stimulates the stomach acid. However, there is more to ulcer than drinking.

ROSE COLORED GLASSES

J. S. writes: At times I see colored TV when the film is black and white. Do you think I'm balmy?

REPLY

No — highly imaginative. It's the balmy people who believe everything they see.

TAKING LAXATIVES

R. D. writes: My druggist told me if I took citrate of magnesia every two or three weeks it would help clear my skin. Could this do any harm to an 18 year old person?

REPLY

Yes. Laxatives will irritate the intestine and encourage constipation when taken this often. Furthermore, they will not clear the skin.

WANTS TO DEVELOP

Hopeful writes: Is there any exercise to make a sunken chest normal?

REPLY

No, except the exercise involved in putting on falsies.

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is included. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

Fronting for the family at today's hearing will be Richard Gonzales of Humble Oil, a Rockefeller company.

On the other side will be Horace Gray, a University of Illinois economics professor; John Menge, who teaches economics at Rockefeller-endowed Dartmouth; and Charles Galvin, a law professor at Southern Methodist University.

In an advance statement to the committee, Professor Gray claims that "the depletion allowance is fraught with so much evil and is so devoid of merit that it should be discontinued forthwith."

Professor Menge maintains in his advance statement that the large oil firms don't really need the depletion allowance.

"Nevertheless," he says, "the U. S. taxpayer is asked to grant substantial tax privileges to the industry as a whole, so that many marginal operators can continue to use scarce economic oil resources. It is asking a great deal to insist that the public give an extra bonus to the successful firms and then turn around and reward failures as well."

Professor Galvin, who dares buck the giant oil interest in his home state of Texas, declares: "Revenue revision which seeks to eliminate preferences and broaden the tax base is a laudable objective . . . A Texan undertaking to illuminate the arena of debate on these matters may be inclined to be wary of what he says lest he lose his Texas citizenship. On the other hand, a Texan would be a traitor to his clan if he were deficient in a sense of fair play."

It will be interesting to see how long Professor Galvin keeps his job at S.M.U.

Diplomatic Pipeline

The decision to oppose Poland for a seat on the United Nations Security Council at the same time the State Department is trying to court Poland was made by junior-level diplomats. The top policymakers were stuck with the move after it was too late . . . Foreign diplomats, including some of our best friends in NATO, have been wondering why Vice President Nixon has been so strangely silent regarding this UN vote battle.

In today's testimony, the Republicans will be upstaged with Democrats Johnson and Rayburn. The public spotlight on the ESSO sign behind Gov. Nelson Rockefeller might hurt his chances for the Presidential nomination.

Some men are gifted to see beyond their own time. Almost always, they are the least likely men. No one who knew Henry L. Stimson would call him clairvoyant. His mind was a computer. He had a spare appearance; a man with hair parted in the middle carelessly; a pursed mouth, the look of a farmer who was wearing a stiff collar for the first time.

Mr. Stimson is gone. In some ways, he has been forgotten. But he had greatness and, with a little more push and a few more friends, he might have been a Republican nominee for President of the United States. He was qualified. He had been a fair Secretary of State and later, Franklin D. Roosevelt had called him out of retirement to be Secretary of War in a Democratic Administration.

It was strange to see a man who wouldn't shoot a bird in a hunting preserve acting as Secretary of War, stranger still to see him as the daddy of the atomic bomb. In Stimson's department, Gen. George Catlett Marshall worked as Chief of Staff, and Gen. Leslie Groves was assigned as head of the Manhattan Project.

On March 15, 1945, four months before the first bomb was tested at Alamogordo, Stimson sat with Roosevelt trying to convince him that there would be a bomb. The President had a note from Admiral William Leahy which said that Mr. Roosevelt was spending billions of dollars in secret on "a lemon," that there would never be an atomic bomb.

These words were uttered before the first bomb exploded, before any one was certain that it would explode, before the scientists were in agreement about the size of the blast. The problems that chafe the world today, Henry L. Stimson foresaw almost 15 years ago.

In particular, I like to dwell upon the part where he says that our technical advancement has outstripped our moral development. No one in Washington mentions his name any more, but Stimson was quite a man. A prophet of enormous integrity.

Colts, Forty Niners Win, Remain Tied For NFL Lead

Baltimore Turns Back Rams, 35-21

Unitas Fires Two TD Passes; Wade Is Los Angeles Star

By GEORGE BOWEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Baltimore Colts raced to a three touchdown lead that enabled them to withstand the long-range passing of quarterback Bill Wade and post a 35-21 victory Sunday over the Los Angeles Rams.

The seventh Colt victory in 10 games left the defending champions tied for the Western Conference lead in the National Football League with San Francisco, 21-20 victor over Cleveland. The Colts and San Francisco meet Saturday in the next to last scheduled game.

The Rams suffered their eighth setback. Their frustration started early against the Colts who moved for two of their first touchdowns after recovering fumbles.

Quarterback John Unitas and end Raymond Berry collaborated on a 56-yard pass scoring play for the third Colt score. Unitas also threw a 17-yard scoring pass to halfback Lenny Moore, the 35th straight game in which the gaudy quarterback has found at least one touchdown receiver.

Wade and Del Shofner worked a 72-yard touchdown play and Tom Wilson caught a seven-yard pass over the goal from his quarterback. Wade ran two yards for the other Ram touchdown after Leon Clark took a pass from him and turned it into a 60-yard gain.

Ameche Scores First

Fullback Alan Ameche crashed 7 yards for the first Colt touchdown after a march from midfield

COACHES SELECT THREE KEYSERITES — Keyser High School's co-champions landed three players on the PVC all-conference football team which was selected last week by the coaches of the circuit at the annual dinner meeting. The Keyser players, left to right, are Donald "Freddie" Clark, son of Coach Frederick "Tack" Clark, end; Gary Keedy, quarterback, who Keyser (7-0) finished on top for the 6th straight year and shared the title with West Virginia School for the Deaf (4-0). Keedy led the PVC scorers with 78 points and also was the top scorer in the tri-state area this season with 96 tallies. The three Keyser gridiron seniors are seniors.

Chicago Bears Rack Up Fifth Straight Win

Grab Five Fumbles, Defeat Cards, 31-7

By JERRY LISKA
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP) — The Chicago Bears bore down on the fumbling Chicago Cardinals for a 31-7 victory Sunday which kept alive the Bears' divisional title hopes in the National Football League.

This was the fifth victory in a row for the resurgent Bears.

The Bears grabbed five Card fumbles and were in command from the first play on which rookie end Willard Dewveall took a 75-yard scoring pass from quarterback Ed Brown.

Gene Fullmer of Jordan, Utah, is a lesser favorite at 8-5 to protect his NBA version of the world middleweight (160-pound) championship against Spider Webb of Chicago in a 15-round fight at Logan, Utah, Friday night. It's a return match at the Houston (Tex.) Coliseum, Wednesday night.

Both Will Be Televised

Both title fights will be televised nationally.

At London, Tuesday night, two international heavyweight bouts will be staged at Wembley Arena.

Big Mike DeJohn of Syracuse, N.Y., meets Dick Richardson of Wales. Neither is a ranking contender.

But in the other 10-round fight, England's Brian London, British Empire champion, meets big Nino Valdes of Cuba. Cooper is ranked fifth; Valdes, a former contender, is unranked.

Don Jordan of Los Angeles, world welterweight champion, engages Brazilian Fernando Barreto in a non-title 10-round fight at Sao Paulo, Brazil, Saturday night.

Also on Saturday night, Irish Freddie Gilroy and Bernie Taylor of South Africa fight for the British Empire bantamweight title at Belfast, Northern Ireland.

The first play of the fourth quarter, a Cardinal pass interference gave the Bears the ball on the Card three. Two plays later, Merrill Douglas smashed across from the one for a 31-7 Bear lead.

Bears 7 10 7 7-31

Cardinals 0 0 7 0-7

Bears: TD, Dewveall 2 (76 pass from Brown, 12 pass from Brown Casares 28 run), Douglas (1 plunge), FG, Aveni (24), PAT, Aveni 4.

Cards: TD, Richards (25 pass from Hill), PAT, Conrad.

Wimer Is Named To Hall Of Fame

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI) — Frank Wimer, former Elkins high school coach, and Freddie Colvard, Logan high school's star halfback, were cited Saturday for special honors.

Wimer was voted into the West Virginia Sports Hall of Fame by the West Virginia Sports Writers Assn. and Colvard was named winner of the Kennedy Award as the state's outstanding scholastic football player.

Both will be honored at the 15th annual Victory Awards Dinner sponsored by the sports writers here Dec. 7.

Wimer retired from coaching in 1954 after becoming one of the Mountain State's winningest coaches. He polled 23 of 42 votes cast in balloting for the hall of fame this year. It takes half of the votes cast to enter the hall of fame.

Except for five years as an Army Major in World War II, Wimer coached at Elkins continuously from 1920 until his retirement. He still is a physical education instructor in the school.

Wimer is the 16th member of the Hall of Fame.

Two World Title Bouts Are On Tap This Week

Charnley To Test Brown; Webb Will Face Gene Fullmer

NEW YORK (UPI) — Two world title fights, for the lightweight and middleweight crowns, top this week's unusually attractive boxing schedule.

Thirty-three-year-old Joe Brown of New Orleans is favored at 12-5 to keep his lightweight (135-pound) title in a 15-round bout against England's southpaw Dave Charnley, British Empire champion, at the Houston (Tex.) Coliseum, Wednesday night.

Gene Fullmer of Jordan, Utah, is a lesser favorite at 8-5 to protect his NBA version of the world middleweight (160-pound) championship against Spider Webb of Chicago in a 15-round fight at Logan, Utah, Friday night. It's a return match at the Houston (Tex.) Coliseum, Wednesday night.

The Warriors had staged a rally in the closing minutes to go ahead, 126-125, on a tip in by Wilt Chamberlain with five seconds remaining.

The Knicks then passed the ball up court to Sears in the right hand corner and his high-arching shot went through as the game ended.

New York held a 116-99 lead with 6:28 remaining and seemed an easy winner.

But Guy Rodgers, who was on the bench as a result of five personal fouls, returned to lead Philadelphia's comeback.

Six straight points by Rodgers cut New York's lead to 125-124 then with 56 seconds remaining. Then came Chamberlain's tip in and Sears game-winning shot.

Chamberlain was high for the losers with 33 points while Rodgers finished with 26.

Jamin, Wonder Horse, Beaten

MILAN, Italy (UPI) — Tornese, a seven-year-old Italian campaigner, defeated Europe's "wonder horse" Jamin, Sunday night in the Grand Prix of Nations trotting event.

Although Jamin had to settle for second place, the French horse clinched the 1959 European Gold Cup with a total of 28 points.

icare IV of Italy, who finished third in Sunday's race, wound up second in the Gold Cup standings with 30 points.

Tornese set a new track record in winning the Grand Prix, covering 2,100 meters (about 15-16 miles) in two minutes, 18.7 seconds.

Major Leagues And N.F.L. Hold Draft Sessions Today

Washington Opens Draw In Florida

Senators Select Don Lee; Rookies To Cost $15,000

By JOE REICHLER

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — This year's big league baseball draft, which opens the annual minor league convention here Monday could be one of the most exciting and productive in years.

The reason? A first year player draft will receive its initial test. This makes eligible for selection all bonus youngsters signed since last December who were not promoted to major league rosters. This new draft is in addition to the regular selection of minor league players with four years experience in organized baseball.

Pickings appear to be slim in the older group. As is usually the case, the more promising players have been brought up and the remaining eligibles are largely veteran ex-major leaguers or players who have flunked previous big league trials.

Cubs with an eye on the future may give more attention to the inexperienced teen-agers who have a good chance of developing into future stars. Besides, they cost less. A drafted veteran costs $25,000 while a 1959 rookie selection costs only $15,000.

The Washington Senators are scheduled to open the draw, followed by the Philadelphia Phils.

It was learned Washington's first selection will be Don Lee, right handed pitching son of former major leaguer Thornton Lee. Don, 25, compiled a 14-9 record with Charleston of the American Association last season.

The only catch in drafting a first-year player is that, under the rules, a first-year drafted player can be optioned out the following year only if all other major league clubs have waived on him and the club from which he was selected has not filed a claim on him.

John S. Keller Is Hyndman's Cage Mentor

Will Make Debut In Friday Opener

John S. Keller, an alumnus of Hyndman-Londonderry High School, will make his debut as coach of the Hyndman High Hornets when they play their opening game of the 1959-60 basketball season Friday, December 4, at Rockwood High School.

Coach Keller is the son of Lloyd G. Keller, supervising principal at Hyndman, and was with Hyndman's original quint in 1950-51. He played four seasons on the varsity squad and was graduated in 1954.

Keller is the fourth coach to handle the reins at Hyndman since basketball was introduced at the Pennsylvania School. He was preceded by Jack James, Chris Stoner and Harry F. McKinley, who resigned in August and is now mathematics and social studies teacher at Hyndman High School. During his three years as head cage mentor at Hyndman, McKinley's teams won 43 games and lost 31 for a .581 average.

Charles R. Close, also an alumnus of Hyndman High School, is the new junior varsity coach. He and Keller were teammates at Hyndman. Close started teaching at Hyndman at mid-year last year while Keller taught at Bedford High School last year.

Hyndman will play a schedule of 21 games. The Hornets' schedule includes home-and-home contests with three Maryland schools—Oldtown, Mt. Savage and LaSalle. Ten games will be played in the Bedford County League.

Hyndman won 12 games and lost 11 last season.

Russian Girls Win At Peoria, 46-42

PEORIA, Ill. (UPI) — A Russian girls' basketball team parlayed sharp outside shooting and a tight defense Sunday to score its second success in as many United States starts with a 46-42 victory over Nashville (Tenn.) Business College.

The Russian girls opened their U. S. tour Thursday night with a victory in New York. The Russians appeared no strangers to basketball, hitting 36 per cent of their shots from the field and sinking 16 of 19 free throws.

Nina Kostikova proved a sharp-shooter from the free throw line for the Russians, hitting on nine out of nine shots.

DEAN'S PRESENT AGAIN

MIAMI, Fla. (UPI) — Jim Fitzsimmons, dean of American race horse trainers, celebrates his 28th consecutive season at Bar A at Hialeah this season.

Cumberland Asks Same Racing Dates In 1960

Fair Association Makes Request To State Commission

The Cumberland Fair Association yesterday requested that it be allocated the same dates as 1959, following immediately after Timonium, in a telegram to the Maryland Racing Commission which meets today in Baltimore.

The telegram, addressed to R. Bruce Livie, chairman of the commission, was worded as follows:

"Because of change in meeting time, we were unable to be present on Friday. It is our earnest desire to race at Cumberland and we respectfully request that we be allocated the same dates as 1959, following immediately after Timonium."

The message was signed by Harry J. Barton, general manager of the Cumberland Fair Association.

It was revealed Saturday that the reason Cumberland was not represented at Friday's meeting of the Maryland Racing Commission was because the session was over before J. Glenn Beall, Jr., treasurer of the Cumberland Fair Association, arrived in Baltimore. The meeting originally was set for 2 p. m., then moved up to noon but notice of the change in time was not received here. Mr. Beall arrived at 1:45 p. m.

Directors of the Cumberland Fair Association met here yesterday and pledged their support to keep racing in Cumberland in spite of the efforts of Chairman Livie of the racing commission to knock out Cumberland and Bel Air and transfer the 24 days to one of the state's major tracks for the purpose of raising more revenue for the state. Livie favors three instead of five minor tracks in the state.

Cumberland's 1959 meeting, scheduled for Sept. 14-26, was transferred to Hagerstown, prior to the Hub City session, due to a shortage of thoroughbreds. It marked the first time since 1925 that Cumberland was without a racing meet.

Dates are expected to be assigned the tracks for 1960 at today's session of the state racing commission.

Cumberland Asks Same Racing Dates In 1960

Fair Association Makes Request To State Commission

The Cumberland Fair Association yesterday requested that it be allocated the same dates as 1959, following immediately after Timonium, in a telegram to the Maryland Racing Commission which meets today in Baltimore.

The telegram, addressed to R. Bruce Livie, chairman of the commission, was worded as follows:

"Because of change in meeting time, we were unable to be present on Friday. It is our earnest desire to race at Cumberland and we respectfully request that we be allocated the same dates as 1959, following immediately after Timonium."

The message was signed by Harry J. Barton, general manager of the Cumberland Fair Association.

It was revealed Saturday that the reason Cumberland was not represented at Friday's meeting of the Maryland Racing Commission was because the session was over before J. Glenn Beall, Jr., treasurer of the Cumberland Fair Association, arrived in Baltimore. The meeting originally was set for 2 p.m., then moved up to noon but notice of the change in time was not received here. Mr. Beall arrived at 1:45 p.m.

Directors of the Cumberland Fair Association met here yesterday and pledged their support to keep racing in Cumberland in spite of the efforts of Chairman Livie of the racing commission to knock out Cumberland and Bel Air and transfer the 24 days to one of the state's major tracks for the purpose of raising more revenue for the state. Livie favors three instead of five minor tracks in the state.

Cumberland's 1959 meeting, scheduled for Sept. 14-26, was transferred to Hagerstown, prior to the Hub City session, due to a shortage of thoroughbreds. It marked the first time since 1925 that Cumberland was without a racing meet.

Dates are expected to be assigned the tracks for 1960 at today's session of the state racing commission.

Can a gray-haired woman make herself look as young as she feels? Yes!

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

How To Shake The "Gray Hair" Blues

There's no reason in this modern age why you have to put up with faded-gray or yellowed-white tresses, when any of the silver, steel, or blue rinses on the market will tint the color of your hair to something that is perfectly natural and perfectly beautiful.

You know, by now, that I'm not one who would approve of the "navy" blue hair that I see now and again. That's artificial and against my code of beauty. But it's my contention that it's no more unnatural to use a rinse to preserve the color of your hair than it is to use a bleach to preserve the whiteness of your linen.

Silver Fox hair should be washed as often as linen, too, and always followed by your rinse because the effects are cumulative. It may take you a month of rinses to get your hair to the color it was meant to be before heat, sun, and weather got at it.

Of course, a lovely color alone will not turn the whole trick—it is only one card in the pack. You must give more thought to its styling for face and figure flattery than ever before. Above all, keep your hair-do simple and sleek. Deep contoured waves are the order of your day. Too many curls will only look like a picture of Martha Washington's wig.

When you need a permanent, be sure to select the best and see that the proper amount of bluing is added to the wave solution so you won't come out a streaky blonde. After a permanent, double up on your brushing until your hair shines like quicksilver.

And stay away from all hair ornaments. You won't need any other ornament than your own gleaming head!

Give mayonnaise an added flavor fillip by blending it with one of the many preserves available to you—it's a treat on fruit salads.

Col. Ind. is well acquainted with spies, female and otherwise. He figures he has done more work in clandestine activity than anyone else in the U.S. Army. He organized air intelligence at Manila before Pearl Harbor, and he became co-organizer and deputy controller of the Allied Intelligence Bureau ("the O.S.S. of the MacArthur command") during World War II. After the war, he remained in the Far East in a special intelligence capacity until 1955.

"Women make the best spies," he said on a trip to New York from Ft. Holabird, Md., where he is stationed. "Their hearts are in it. I didn't say they put their hearts in it—their hearts ARE in it."

"It's inherent in a woman," he added. "Because she is the weaker sex physically, she has been forced to seek other means of self-preservation."

Can a gray-haired woman make herself look as young as she feels? Yes!

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

How To Shake The "Gray Hair" Blues

There's no reason in this modern age why you have to put up with faded-gray or yellowed-white tresses, when any of the silver, steel, or blue rinses on the market will tint the color of your hair to something that is perfectly natural and perfectly beautiful.

You know, by now, that I'm not one who would approve of the "navy" blue hair that I see now and again. That's artificial and against my code of beauty. But it's my contention that it's no more unnatural to use a rinse to preserve the color of your hair than it is to use a bleach to preserve the whiteness of your linen.

Silver Fox hair should be washed as often as linen, too, and always followed by your rinse because the effects are cumulative. It may take you a month of rinses to get your hair to the color it was meant to be before heat, sun, and weather get at it.

Of course, a lovely color alone will not turn the whole trick—it is only one card in the pack. You must give more thought to its styling for face and figure flattery than ever before. Above all, keep your hair-do simple and sleek. Deep contoured waves are the order of your day. Too many curls will only look like a picture of Martha Washington's wig.

When you need a permanent, be sure to select the best and see that the proper amount of bluing is added to the wave solution so you won't come out a streaky blonde. After a permanent, double up on your brushing until your hair shines like quicksilver.

And stay away from all hair ornaments. You won't need any other ornament than your own gleaming head!

Answers Your Problems

DEAR READERS: Recently a him one in front of everybody. woman who signed herself 'Miss Inquisitive' wanted to know what FROM SUPERIOR, WISC.: My divorced women did with their husband's maiden sister after their marriage with her dominating ways. He always listened to suggested the battle-scarred veterans write in and tell me what they did with the trophies.

The mail was fascinating. Here are some samples:

FROM BIRMINGHAM, ALA.-BAMA: My mother-in-law broke up my marriage. I decided it would be fitting and proper to give her a farewell present. I baked her a cheesecake and dropped the rings in the batter. Then I delivered the cake, personally, and left town bag and baggage.—RELEIVED.

DEAR ANN: We moved to this good dump two months ago because my dad got a good price for our nice home.

I am ashamed of this terrible place and don't want to bring any of my friends here. I am afraid they will lose respect for me if they see the kind of place I live in. A certain boy has been asking me for dates. Shall I meet him at the phone? Maybe if he gets real sweet on me he could take the shock of this house. Please help.—LIVING IN A DUMP

DEAR ANN: When my husband asked for a divorce I couldn't even look at the beautiful jewelry he'd given me over the 18 years of our marriage.

I put my 4 carat engagement ring in the vault for three years. One day I decided to put the ring to good use, so I sold it and bought a 3-month world tour ticket. On the trip I met a wonderful man to whom I am now married.

—HAPPY BETTE

FROM RALEIGH, N. C.: I donated my rings to Alcoholics Anonymous. This is where my former husband should have gone. Since I couldn't persuade HIM, I sent his rings.

FROM RENO, NEVADA: I threw my wedding ring in the Washoe River—YESTERDAY! —MILLSTONE MINUS

FROM BERMUDA: For two years my rings sat in the jewelry box. It was like seeing a corpse whenever I opened the drawer. When the Goodwill Industries came around I gave them the rings. The man almost fainted. I was happy to be rid of the reminders, and I'm sure they bought the new owner more happiness than I ever got from them.

—SMART COOKIE

FROM CHICAGO: I had hoped to keep my lovely rings for "security in case of a financial squeeze. But I wound up hocking them to pay for my divorce.

—TROPHYLESS

FROM DALLAS: I had two marriage failures and hated the sight of my rings. So I had the diamonds and rubies removed and fashioned into a lovely set of earrings which I now wear with great pleasure and no regrets.

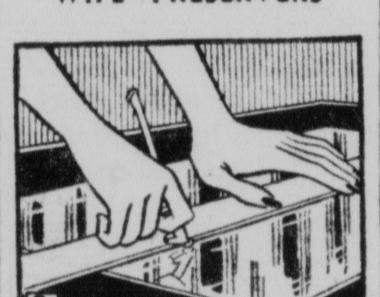

—VALENCIA

FROM ST. LOUIS: I didn't get the chance to do anything with my rings. My husband, the big jerk, took them when he skipped.

Windshield Shatters

LONDON (UPI)—Prime Minister Macmillan went home in a police car Sunday after a mysterious accident shattered the windshield of his own car. Macmillan and a party were driving to Chequers, his official country residence outside London, when the windshield glass shattered. Police said they could not account for the accident, except that "glass fatigue" was a possible cause. Macmillan and his group transferred to a police car to continue the trip to Chequers.

To Turn Over Chapel

TOKYO (UPI)—The American Tokyo chapel annex, which provided a place of worship for thousands of U.S. military men and their families, will be formally turned over to the Japanese government on Dec. 4, it was learned Sunday. The chapel, consisting of 14 buildings on approximately three acres of land in downtown Tokyo, was opened in the fall of 1946 by the U.S. Army. It came under the supervision of the U.S. Air Force early in 1958.

ANSWERS TO BRIDGE QUIZ

Q. 1—As South you hold:

▲ A 6 3 ♠ A 10 8 7 3 ♦ 9 7 4 ♣ 6 4

The bidding has proceeded:

North East South West

1 ♠ Pass 1 ♥ Pass

4 ♥ Pass ?

What do you bid now?

A—What started out as a colorless holding has in the light of partner's bidding blossomed forth into a thing of beauty. Upon revaluation your hand is worth 10 points at a heart contract and, since partner's bidding indicates about 21, you are in the slam zone. One forward step is called for and should take the form of a cue bid of four spades.

Q. 2—As South you hold:

▲ 8 4 ♠ Q J 7 ♦ Q J 6 3 ♣ K 9 8 6

The bidding has proceeded:

West North East South

1 ♠ Double 1 NT. ?

What do you bid now?

A—Double. Assuming partner to be sound, either East or West has exaggerated his values. You have nine points in high cards and partner has at least 13 which gives your side a decided edge in high card strength. Partner's bid indicates your approximate values. Partner should be able to assess the situation if one of the adversaries should attempt an escape.

Q. 3—As South you hold:

▲ A J 3 ♠ K 6 4 ♦ J 6 5 ♣ A Q 9 6 5

The bidding has proceeded:

South West North East

1 ♠ Pass 2 ♠ Pass

What do you bid now?

A—Pass. Your partner has no strength and he would either have doubled or made a free bid. The opponents assuredly have their signs established and doubtless will only serve to wise them up. West apparently has the rest of the club and from your distribution it is apparent that East's long suit will represent a much better resting spot for their side.

Q. 4—As South you hold:

▲ K 9 7 6 3 ♠ A J 9 8 4 ♠ 10 7

The bidding has proceeded:

South West North East

1 ♠ Pass 2 ♠ Pass

What do you bid now?

A—Pass. Your partner has no strength and he would either have doubled or made a free bid. The opponents assuredly have their signs established and doubtless will only serve to wise them up. West apparently has the rest of the club and from your distribution it is apparent that East's long suit will represent a much better resting spot for their side.

▲ K 9 7 4 2 ♠ K 10 3 ♦ A J 9 6 4

The bidding has proceeded:

South West North East

1 ♠ Pass 2 NT. Pass

What do you bid now?

A—with this somewhat unbalanced hand the door should not be shut to a possible game contract in spades and the suggested rebid to spades is wise. Rebid to spades if he can take care of the spades. Fulfillment of a no trump game should prove routine.

Q. 6—As South you hold:

▲ 4 2 ♠ K 9 6 3 ♠ A Q K 9 6 2

The bidding has proceeded:

South West North East

1 ♠ Pass 1 NT. 2 ♠

What do you bid now?

A—Three no trump. Your hand should produce seven or eight tricks and since you can stay on the hearts and partner has indicated that he can take care of the spades, fulfillment of a no trump game should prove routine.

ANSWERS TO BRIDGE QUIZ

Q. 1—As South you hold:

▲ A 6 3 ♠ A 10 8 7 3 ♦ Q 7 5 ♣ 6 4

The bidding has proceeded:

North East South West

1 ♠ Pass 1 ♠ Pass

4 ♠ Pass 7

What do you bid now?

A—What started out as a colorless holding has, in the light of partner's vigorous action, blossomed forth into a thing of beauty. You can afford to hold on to 10 points at a heart contract and, since partner's bidding indicates about 21, you are in the slam zone. One forward step is called for and should take the form of a cue bid of four spades.

—Q. 2—As South you hold:

▲ 8 4 ♠ Q J 7 ♦ Q J 6 3 ♣ K 9 8 6

The bidding has proceeded:

West North East South

1 ♠ Double 1 NT. ?

What do you bid?

A—Double. Assuming partner to be sound, either East or West has exaggerated his values. You have nine points in high cards and partner has at least 13 which gives your side a decided edge in high card strength. Once you have announced your approximate values, partner should be able to assess the situation if one of the adversaries should attempt an escape.

—Q. 3—As South you hold:

▲ K 3 ♠ K 6 4 ♦ A Q 9 6 5

The bidding has proceeded:

South West North East

1 ♠ Pass 2 ♠ Pass

2 ♠ Pass 3 ♠ Pass

What do you bid now?

A—Pass. Your partner has no strength or he would either have doubled West or made a free bid. The opponents assuredly have their signals crossed, and a double by you will only serve to wise them up. West's current contract is a reasonable one. From your description it appears that East's long suit will represent a much better resting spot for their side.

—Q. 4—As South you hold:

▲ K 9 7 6 3 ♠ A J 9 8 6 ♠ A 10 7

The bidding has proceeded:

South West North East

1 ♠ Pass 2 ♠ Pass

2 ♠ Pass 3 ♠ Pass

What do you bid now?

A—Things aren't going your way and it behoves you not to be stubborn. It is true that you have not yet shown that you have a good rebiddable spade suit, but when there can afford to be a double, it is better to rebid than to mope. Your partner's partner doesn't like spades, you may be in very deep water. The better part of valor is to resign oneself to a short loss by passing three diamonds. And who knows, perhaps partner might be a little more pliable. You would have preferred a rebid of two spades after partner's two diamond bid.

—Q. 5—As South you hold:

▲ K 9 7 4 2 ♠ K 10 3 ♦ A Q 9 6 4

The bidding has proceeded:

South West North East

1 ♠ Pass 2 NT. Pass

What do you bid now?

A—with this somewhat unbalanced hand the door should not be shut to a possible game contract in spades and the suggested call is three diamonds. If partner returns that he can take care of the spades, fulfillment of a no trump game should prove routine.

—Q. 6—As South you hold:

▲ 4 2 ♠ K J ♦ K 6 3 ♣ A Q 9 6 2

The bidding has proceeded:

South West North East

1 ♠ Pass 1 NT. 2 ♠

What do you bid now?

A—Three no trump. Your hand should produce seven or eight tricks and since you can stop the eight tricks and partner has indicated that he can take care of the spades, fulfillment of a no trump game should prove routine.

15 Left Homeless By Pittsburgh Fire

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — Fifteen persons, including nine children, were driven to the street in freezing weather Sunday when fire destroyed a three-family dwelling in nearby Wilkins Twp.

Left homeless by the blaze were Mr. and Mrs. George Slater and their four children, Mr. and Mrs. James Slater and their three children and Mr. and Mrs. George Morrison and their two children.

In his office downstairs in Strategic Air Command headquarters, Dr. Rodney H. Smith, a good-looking, 41-year-old scientist, cocked his head toward the squaw box as the SAC commander asked: "How much warning will I get of a surprise attack?"

Smith, in turn, put the question to his experts in one of SAC's least known agencies: Operations Analyses.

The civilian team—specialists in electronics, mathematics, statistics, geophysics and meteorology—fanned out across the country to huddle with intelligence officers, communications personnel and air defense people at Colorado Springs.

One Operations Analysis man headed for the Far East to gather data. Another was sent to Europe.

The team of scientists then weighed what they learned about worldwide radar, available communications systems and the various ways in which the enemy might strike. Finally, Dr. Smith briefed Gen. Power and his staff on what was learned.

Not long afterward, on Oct. 1, 1957, Gen. Power told the world that henceforth part of SAC's global jet bomber force would always be on 15 minutes alert—prepared to be airborne and combat ready in a quarter of an hour.

It was a dramatic break from tradition during one of the chillier phases of the cold war. As one SAC man explained: "It used to take 24 hours to go to war."

Power, like many military and business men today, had made his decision only after hearing what his scientists had to say.

The door to Operations Analysis is just a few steps inside the main entrance of SAC's headquarters at Offutt Air Force Base near Omaha. Yet comparatively few of the 3,700 people who work in the building are aware of the agency.

Area Highways Hazardous As Result Of Snow

Garrett Gets Three Inches

Highways in the tri-state area were icy and hazardous last night in the wake of snow which fell during the day, and below-freezing temperatures.

State Police at LaVale said U.S. Route 40 was hazardous east and west of Cumberland. Cinders crews of the State Roads Commission were called out.

Ralph Weber, official weather observer at Oakland, said about three inches of snow had fallen in most of Garrett County yesterday and the temperature was about 15 above zero at 10 p.m. The wind was blowing and colder weather was expected in the mountains.

West Virginia State Police at Romney said U.S. Route 50 from Allegany Front west was in a hazardous condition. Farther west in the direction of Elkins chains were being advised.

Pennsylvania State Police at Bedford said the roads in that vicinity were a "sheet of ice on every hill," although no serious highway accidents were reported.

It was about the first snowfall of the winter season in that area yesterday. The snow began accumulating enough by 4 p.m. to make highways treacherous.

About 4:15 p.m. yesterday a heavy snowfall blew into Cumberland, covering rooftops and leaving streets and pavements wet. A dip of about four degrees in temperature within a few minutes at that time resulted in icy streets and walks.

The mercury was expected to dip to 10 to 20 degrees above zero through the night. Today will be mostly sunny and cold except partly cloudy skies with a few snow flurries in the mountains.

The heaviest weekend snowfall was five inches at Thomas, W. Va. and Rowlesburg, W. Va.

Turnpike Has 'Worst' Tieups

SOMERSET, Pa. (AP)—Home-bound holiday travelers using the Pennsylvania Turnpike ran into some of the worst traffic jams in the history of the toll road Sunday night. Vehicles — bumper-to-bumper — moved at snail pace.

State Police said traffic was stalled as much as 10 miles on the western entrance of Laurel Tunnel, about seven miles west of Somerset.

Westbound traffic was backed up as much as 10 miles at the eastern end of Allegheny Tunnel, 12 miles east of Somerset. A state policeman said:

"This is the worst I have ever seen it. It will be early morning before we get all of this traffic moved off the turnpike."

Some snow fell earlier in the day but police said the jams were due to heavy traffic and not to weather conditions. The pile-up of autos began shortly after 1 p.m. and continued into the night.

Numerous tractor-trailers and some passenger-crowded buses were caught in the jams.

A state policeman said traffic was not moving much more than a mile an hour at the tunnel jams.

Traffic on other sections of the toll road also was reported heavy. Short lines of bumper-to-bumper cars were reported at various parts of the turnpike, police said.

Lions To Hear 'The Messiah'

The Cumberland Lions Club will see and hear a preview of "The Messiah" at its weekly luncheon meeting Wednesday at 12:15 p.m. at Central YMCA.

Selections will be presented by Martha Fink, Joyce Zornig and Kenneth Wilson. They will be accompanied by Mrs. Robert Gorner at the piano.

The local service club is co-sponsor of "The Messiah" which will be presented December 13 at 4 p.m. in Allegany High School auditorium.

The regular meeting of the board of directors of the Lions Club will be held Thursday, December 10 at 7:30 p.m. at Central YMCA.

Christmas Shopping Early

Many local and area residents, as evidenced by the above picture taken Saturday on Baltimore Street, are getting a head start on their Christmas shopping. Yuletide decorations and lights have added the holiday look to downtown Cumberland. Merchants, who have a wide variety of appropriate gifts, will be open 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. on Monday and Friday this week and next week. Beginning December 14 the stores will be open those hours except on Saturday when they will close at 5 or 6 p.m. During Christmas Week the stores will be open from 9 a.m. until 9 p.m. with the exception of Christmas Eve, when last minute shoppers will have until 5 p.m. to buy their Christmas presents.

Bloodmobile Needs 600 Pints Today, Tomorrow

Six hundred pints of blood are needed to meet the quarterly quota of Allegany County, Mrs. Jane Legge, executive secretary of the county Red Cross chapter, said last night in urging donors to give blood at the Westernport Legion Home today and the Eagles' Home, Cumberland, tomorrow, between noon and 6 p.m.

Cancer, heart and TB patients continue high on the list of blood users in out-of-region hospitals, the secretary said, adding that this blood cannot be supplied unless quotas are met on a quarterly basis.

Only last night, Mrs. Holmes Cessna of the Red Cross motor corps obtained scarce B-negative blood from the Johnstown Regional Blood Center for a Celanese worker in Sacred Heart Hospital with a ruptured ulcer.

Despite icy road conditions, Mrs. Cessna and her sister, Miss Nina Seitz, made the trip with the help of Pennsylvania State Police.

Thirteen pints of blood were supplied to a local TB patient who underwent a lung operation in a Baltimore Hospital recently. Mrs. Legge said, and 20 pints have been ordered for an area resident who will undergo heart surgery at Georgetown University Hospital, Washington, next month.

During the quarter that ended September 30, 652 pints of blood were collected in Allegany County, while 647 were distributed to Sacred Heart, Memorial, Miners and out-of-region hospitals. These figures demonstrate, Mrs. Legge said, that blood usage is always running dangerously close to blood production.

Nearly $85,000 worth of free blood is distributed to county residents annually, based on an average cost of $35 a pint in areas where there is no Red Cross blood program. The blood program is supported by County United Fund through Allegany County Chapter, American National Red Cross.

Safe-Teen To See Films

Cumberland Chapter 337, Safe-Tee, Inc., will see a series of movies tomorrow at its meeting at 7:30 p.m. at the Court House.

The program committee has selected several movies which fit the discussion material for each chapter meeting. The films show basic instructions for student drivers, knowledge of mechanical functions of automobiles and good driver attitudes that promote safe driving.

A treasurer also will be elected tomorrow to replace Paula McCullough, who is now a member of the newly-organized Frostburg Chapter of Safe-Teen.

Dennis Bobo Jr., president of the local chapter, requests every member to bring a new member to tomorrow's meeting.

Durland To Speak To Rotary Club

William Durland will be the guest speaker at the weekly luncheon of the Cumberland Rotary Club tomorrow at 12:15 p.m. at Central YMCA.

Mr. Durland, who also is a member of the local service club, will speak on "Welcome, You're the Boss."

Patient In Hospital

Homer S. Higgins, Vocke Road, supervisor of pupil personnel for the Allegany County Board of Education, is a medical patient in Memorial Hospital.

Dr. McDermott, Former Midland Physician, Dies

Dr. Joseph M. McDermott, who was a physician in Midland many years before moving to Baltimore, died yesterday evening in Bon Secour Hospital in that city.

Death was due to a cerebral hemorrhage he suffered on Wednesday.

A native of Waterbury, Conn., he graduated from the University of Maryland Medical School and began his practice in Midland in 1915 where he remained until 1939, when he moved with his family to Baltimore.

He practiced medicine until Wednesday when he suffered the cerebral hemorrhage. Besides his wife, Mrs. Edna (Cowan) McDermott, he is survived by four sons, Joseph McDermott, James Cowan McDermott, William McDermott, and Francis McDermott, all of Baltimore, and daughter, Mrs. Thomas Boggan, also of Baltimore.

Salvation Army Operates Two Kettle Houses

Both Located On Baltimore St.

Two kettle houses are now in operation on Baltimore Street for the collection of Christmas cheer donations for the Salvation Army's annual program, according to Captain Fred Overton, commanding officer here.

Lewis J. Ort and Woodward D. Pealer are serving as co-chairmen of the Christmas cheer effort which started Saturday and will continue until Christmas Eve. The two kettle houses are situated in front of McCrory's and Murphy's stores on Baltimore Street.

The kettle house in front of Murphy's will be moved to South Cumberland in the vicinity of the Cumberland Savings Bank for the final week before Christmas. It will be manned there by the South Cumberland Business Men's Association.

Seven service clubs have agreed to assist the Salvation Army again this year by manning the kettle house in front of McCrory's for one day each between now and Christmas. These organizations are the Cumberland Rotary, Lions, Kiwanis, Jaycees, Civitan and Optimist clubs and the Bedford Road Optimist Club.

Today is the starting date for the registration for Christmas food orders at the Salvation Army Citadel, 115 North Mechanic Street. Captain Overton stresses that it is imperative that the head of the family apply for the food order in person in each case. Registrations will be accepted from 9 a.m. until 5 p.m. Monday through Friday this week and next. Friday, December 11, will be the final date.

J. Wallace Close is chairman of this food order program.

Minister Addresses Memorial Bible Class

Rev. George R. Winters, pastor of Emmanuel United Church of Christ, Rochester, N.Y., spoke to the Duke Memorial Bible Class yesterday.

Miss Jane Gray Winters, daughter of Rev. Winters, presented a violin solo. Rev. Winters and Miss Winters are the son and granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Winters, 701 Gephart Drive.

Following the ceremonies, refreshments will be served in the banquet hall with Roy V. Ringer, past commander, and Robert M. Shuck, sir knight, in charge of arrangements.

Knights Templar To Confer Order

Antioch Commandery 6, Knights Templar, will meet tomorrow at 6:30 p.m. in the Masonic Temple.

The Order of the Temple will be conferred on a class of candidates by Joseph Davis, commander, assisted by Carlton H. Lapp Sr., senior warden, and Grant A. Wiebel, past grand commander.

Following the ceremonies, refreshments will be served in the banquet hall with Roy V. Ringer, past commander, and Robert M. Shuck, sir knight, in charge of arrangements.

Parents are invited to attend with the Cub Scouts and enjoy crackers and cheese out of the cracker barrel.

The service station of Frank Magruder at the intersection of Third Avenue and West Virginia Route 28 was broken into early Friday morning. Missing are a 410 gauge shotgun, .30-caliber rifle, semi-automatic .22-caliber rifle and a scope, as well as $10 from a church container.

The man will probably be taken to the Mineral County jail in Keyser later in the day pending receipt of a fingerprint report from the FBI.

Chief Cornett said that during his investigation of the breaking and entering he found fingerprints on a tire patch car found in the vicinity.

Travel And Archeology Treated In New Books

Several new and interesting books have been added to the shelves of the Cumberland Free Public Library, Miss Elizabeth Cain, assistant to the librarian, reports.

"Tahiti Nui" by Eric de Bisschop is the story of his attempt to sail a bamboo raft from Polynesia to Chile. Rated as one of the foremost authorities on the Pacific Ocean, and spurred on by Thor Heyerdahl's exploit with the Kon-Tiki, de Bisschop set out to show what can be done with a properly built and handled craft.

"The Status Seekers" by Vance Packard has been hailed as one of the best general works on social class to have been published in recent years. This current best-seller is a most interesting and informative explanation of class behavior in America, said Miss Cain.

Those interested in the rediscovery of a lost civilization will like "Maya" by Charles Gallenkamp. This is a story told by a young archeologist who has himself taken part in these recent discoveries in the jungles of Central America, disclosing the description, developments and achievements of the Mayas.

Paul Gallico fans will be delighted with his latest publication, "Ludmila." This is a charming anecdote about a young cow dubbed The Weakling, and her success in leading the procession down from the high pasture.

"Flying Windmills" by Frank Ross Jr. is the story of the helicopter. Here is portrayed every type of helicopter used. The author describes the past, present and future of these amazing devices for both military and peace-time application.

Few Maryland Pupils Choose Easy Subjects

Pre-College Course Is Most Popular

BALTIMORE (AP) — A broad survey of one class of Maryland high school graduates shows that the largest single group took the academic course which prepared them for college.

This was so, said the report, "despite the somewhat popular notion that only a small percentage of our high school youth are being challenged to pursue the so-called more rigorous courses."

That was one of the findings outlined in a 104-page report of the State Department of Education, released during the weekend. The study was an exhaustive account of the courses pursued by the 1958 public high school graduating classes. Of a possible 17,643 answers, the questionnaire was

37.2% in "Academic."

It was found that 37.2 per cent of the boys and girls had taken an academic course. This includes the more rigorous subjects needed for college entrance. Another 32.1 per cent pursued a general course, 21.7 took commercial and 7.8 majored in vocational studies.

The Department of Education study also showed that many academically talented students are pursuing the tougher courses in mathematics, sciences and languages. But it added that more who have the ability need to be pushed in that direction.

Both men were released from the local jail by City Police Detective Thomas See, who turned one over to Police Chief Jack Cornett of Ridgeley for further investigation.

Cromwell Zembower, qualified instructor of the Fire Service Extension of the University of Maryland, sponsors of the classes, will teach the advanced class, which begins this evening at 7 o'clock.

Planning to take the three-hour classes held for 20 weeks are volunteer firemen from Bowling Green, Corriganville, and LaVale as well as several men from the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company plant at North Branch.

Lewis J. Ort and Woodward D. Pealer are serving as co-chairmen of the Christmas cheer extension of the Salvation Army's annual program, according to Captain Fred Overton, commanding officer here.

Two kettle houses are now in operation on Baltimore Street for the collection of Christmas cheer donations for the Salvation Army.

Dystrophy Canvass Set Here Today

A house-to-house canvass in conjunction with the annual muscular dystrophy drive will be held this evening in Cumberland and Frostburg.

Arthur Nave, chairman of the local canvass, said last night that about 265 volunteers, 75 more than last year, will be knocking on doors this evening seeking contributions which will be used in combating the crippling disease which affects muscles.

Fire Chief Virgin A. Parker, president of the Allegany-Garrett County Muscular Dystrophy Chapter, said Mrs. George Kennedy will be in charge of the more rigorous courses.

That was one of the findings outlined in a 104-page report of the State Department of Education, released during the weekend. The study was an exhaustive account of the courses pursued by the 1958 public high school graduating classes. Of a possible 17,643 answers, the questionnaire was
